

Tin can press

Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears. I know their stuck on your head, but do your best. Anyways, a new era is dawning. This is the era of October. And this October, we shall be camping at Cedarville, for the wide games and Webelos invite.

Where: the campout is at Cedarville, but we are meeting at the church at 6:30 and leaving at 7:00 sharp.

When: October the 21st, 22nd, and 23rd. we meet at the church at 6:30 and leaving 7:00 sharp.

Extra gear: bring a sock with a long ankle thingy. And some clothes you don't mind getting ruined.

Other information: The wide games are not games for wide people, but a giant game of capture the flag we play in the woods with socks. Don't laugh. Its fun. Also, Cedarville will not allow: moon bounces, waterslides, or pony rides. Sorry guys. I know you were excited.

Other stuff: the corn maze day trip is on the 15th of October, its where we all go through a corn maze (duh) it's a lot of fun, please come. We meet at the church at 5:30.

Past victories: we have survived the caving campout, and walked, squeezed and crawled through Laurel caverns. We have also gone through the midget fair, and got more money, well done.

Random penguin fact: a penguin's "tux" is actually for counter shading, for camouflage with sun and snow. Emperor penguins and king penguins are the only penguins that do not make nests.

Cedarville, where we will be camping.

The guys getting ready for repelling

Curiosity did not kill the cat, but it did make a cow get its head stuck in a toy car.
